Modernizing Home Adds Value and Comfort.

Where one is living in a house so easily lightened by a large window has proved to be quite satisfactory in the modernizing of homes, there are a score of other improvements that can be made with ease and economy. Many houses can be made comfortable and more livable by small alterations or additions involving only hundreds of dollars instead of thousands.

ing at these required changes is placed with an open sunny terrace. It consists of first lifting the conditions that bring about discomfort or unnecessary work. As an example there is the hot kitchen—almost completely eliminated by a small ventilating fan. There is the hazardous location of the telephone, involving a long trip from the ends of the house when it rings—easily taken care of by a newly established central situation for the instrument.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

PLASTER WALLS

Q: Our house is a year old, and the bare plaster walls are quite dirty. What should we do before painting them?

A: Clean them as well as you can by brushing and dusting. Grease stains should be taken off with a non-inflammable spot remover. Kitchen walls may require washing with water containing a "grease cutter." Do not use too much water, as bare plaster is very absorbent. Follow with clear water. The walls should have ample time for drying before painting.

INK ON RUG

Q: Recently my son spilled ink on my light colored parlor rug. I only used soap and water on it, but the ink is still noticeable. Can you suggest any way to remove the stain?

A: For best results have the rug cleaned at a rug cleaning shop. Some inks are indelible and practically impossible to remove entirely. The following formula was sent in by one of our readers, but I do not guarantee its success, especially after the soap treatment. Sprinkle table salt liberally on the wet ink. Sweep up as it becomes discolored. Repeat until the ink disappears. If the ink has dried, dampen the salt, rub it like a paste on the spot and remove. As it becomes discolored, repeat until the ink disappears.

Source of Ideas

Most houses follow a definite plan in spite of their age or architectural style. For every one of them there is a counterpart in modern design and styling which can be studied. Look about you for the modern tain to your present structure, and try to visualize your own home after the changes have been made.

Go beyond that and visualize the difference in your housework if you had well-arranged closet, space, a comfortable kitchen and an automatically controlled heating plant. Actually, the base is there to work on and there are thousands of splendid examples to follow.

FUEL SAVER

The use of reflective insulation back of a recessed radiator will save about five per cent of fuel, tests at the University of Illinois have disclosed. In the case of free-standing radiators, the saving is not appreciable, being less than one per cent.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

A house that combines authentic early American style with practical planning for a small family which needs room to grow in. Space on the second floor can be finished for additional bedrooms when needed.

It is designed by Architect Keith Sellers Heine of 238 Palm St., Hartford, Conn. Additional information may be obtained from The American Builder, 105 W. Adams St., Chicago.

SOOT IN CISTERN WATER

Q: Coal soot washes off the roof into my cistern. What can you suggest for clearing the water in the cistern?

A: A "rain switch" would have diverted the sooty water until the roof had been washed clean. Your local dealer in roofing supplies handling metal gutters and leaders could install such a diverter. To clear the water in the cistern you will have to clean it out after the "rain switch" has been installed. Another method is to install a filter in the line between downspout and the cistern. Installation instructions will be found in Farmers' Bulletin 1448, "Farmstead Water Supply." To get this bulletin send five cents (no stamps) to the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C.

Notice of Auto Debt

Payments Required

Persons in Marion county who have paid off mortgages on their automobiles should notify the clerk of courts office, Clerk Elmer E. Smith declared today.

Such notification is necessary, Mr. Smith said, in order to clear his records, and also those of the state office. He added that automobiles can not be sold until the seller can produce a certificate of title showing he is owner of the car. The temporary memorandum receipt issued at the time the mortgage is taken out does not entitle a person to sell his car, Mr. Smith explained. He added his office is having considerable trouble with persons who have lost their certificates, and urged auto owners to be more careful with their ownership papers.

Unit Color Scheme Should be Planned for Floors and Walls

Floors and walls make one of your major color areas. To plan them as a unit. Consider the floor covering seriously—the walls change more often. The new color trend in rugs is definitely away from dark browns, greens, tawny, waxes. More current are the light and medium blues, blues, greens, grays—they also show less line, dust, traffic wear. Quality is decidedly worth the extra investment. Rug cushions protect your rug, add attractiveness. Underfoot. These ABC's of floor covering selections are offered as suggestions.

1. Rooms' red rugs should come within six inches of the wall to avoid that short-streched look. Wall-to-wall carpeting makes any room seem larger, more luxurious.

2. Throw rugs make excellent color and pattern accents in front of sofa or fireplace. Don't use too many—two or three are safe. Place them parallel with the walls. Choose oversize rugs rather than tiny ones.

3. Buy your rugs to the rest of your furnishings. Modern, with its simplicity, demands rugs of a heavy texture, tweed-like and frayed effects, embossed self-patterns, simple and contemporary designs.

4. Early American, on the other hand, suggests a rough, heavy texture. Small geometric patterns and medallions are also set off by this period very well, providing a background that is warm and colorful—and harmonizes with the curved rustic lines and spool designs of Colonial furnishings.

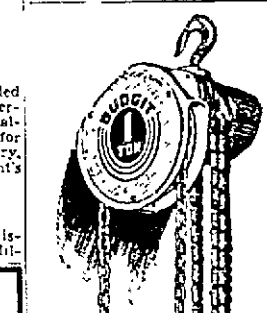

5. Eighteenth Century, rather formal, calls for colors that are plain—perhaps an sculptured, monochrome pattern—texture may be either smooth or nubby. These coverings contribute to the feeling of restrained elegance which belongs to the 18th century.

6. A colorful patterned rug is a good foundation for your room's color scheme. Never choose a rug without thinking of the possibility for future color schemes. With a plain rug, use patterned walls.

7. Feeling of space is achieved by light colors, plain rugs, or small patterns with no borders.

8. Linoleum is practical, decorative. Use as a background for your rug, or alone.

In cutting a pattern small heavy metal objects like bolts, nuts, paper weights, short metal bars and even carpentry tools may be used for pattern weights.

Amazingly light

Would you believe that this NEW 'Budgit' Chain Block weighs only 81 lbs. in two-ton size, 59 lbs. in the one-ton size, and only 48 lbs. in the 3/4 and 1/2-ton capacity? It is true. For a brand new design and the liberal use of alloy steels and stampings have produced these astonishingly low weights.

Would you believe that this 'Budgit' Chain Block lifts easier and faster than other standard spur-gear hoist in the market? This, also, is true. Anti-friction bearings throughout and all working parts enclosed in a grease-filled sealed chamber, make this possible.

It takes much less physical effort to lift weight with the 'Budgit' Chain Block—so the worker likes it.

It is perfectly balanced with or without load—another element of modern, correct design. So is the roller type load chain.

The 'Budgit' Chain Block is equipped with an automatic brake which prevents the load from descending except at the will of the operator.

'Budgit' Chain Blocks are built to lift up to 34, 36, 1 and 2 tons and prices start at $39.50 list. Send for Bulletin No. 357.

THE GARDEN CLINIC

By VICTOR H. RIES

O. S. I. Extension Floriculture

Q: Seen in your column in Country Gentleman about a flower called the pine turtlehead (chelone lyons). The description appeals to me. Where could I get roots of seed for same? Also could I raise bamboo. Where could I get either roots or seed? I have an old lady retired school teacher, a neighbor, who has an abundant assorted flower garden. But she does not sell any flowers or roots and to ask her to give me any will not do. She has some kind of bamboo that is hardy so I feel I could raise it too if I could get some plants or seed. See too has some acacia, but I am too timid to ask her as I just cannot bed. But she told me once that she would not sell any roots, bulbs or seeds as she does not want to make any money—Mrs. E.P.H. Budd,boro, Pa.

A: I do not recall seeing any chelone listed in the bulb catalog last fall. Even if they had been listed they should have been planted by late October to be at full size of their growing. Since they are very small bulbs without a heavy covering, they dry out very quickly and are best planted during September or early October.

My experience with gardeners is that as long as you do not ask them outright for a plant, but rather offer to swap them, they are more likely to give you what you want. Why not ask your neighbor to swap you some of her winter acacia for some other plant? Under these conditions, you could get them this fall, plant them immediately and they should bloom next spring. Many folks find that they will sell you, and multiply.

The pink turtlehead may be purchased from most nurseries or grown from seed available from most large seed firms.

HEARTH TILE CLEANING

Q: The floor of our living room fireplace is of red tile. While housecleaning, a bar of scrubbing soap was left lying on the tile, and resulted in the outline of the soap remaining on the surface of the tile. We have tried plain water, but no avail. Is there anything we can safely use to remove the stain?

A: The wet bar of soap has loosened the baked-on soap ground-in dirt and dust. You should be able to scrub off the rest of it with a strong hot solution of trisodium phosphate or washing soda, a cupful in a gallon of water. The use of scouring powder or steel wool will help remove the accumulation. Another method of cleaning the tile is to scour the surfaces with a paste mixture of scratchless scouring powder and kerosene. When clean, wash with soap and water and rinse with clear water, to remove the odor of kerosene. When doing the above work protect the surrounding floor finish from damage by water and scouring powder.

HUFFMAN ASKS HALT ON ATOM BOMB TEST

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 20—Senator Huffman (D-Ohio) yesterday offered a resolution calling for outright cancellation of the proposed atom bomb tests at Bikini atoll this summer.

"This is no time for martial gestures," Huffman told the chamber. "The reasons for the cancellation are fundamental and of such common sense as to be obvious."

"The United Nations Organization is in its infancy. It is incongruous to its every purpose and aim for this nation or any nation to exhibit large-scale preparation for future wars, and it is undesirable that the United States should even remotely indicate that she is preparing for an atomic war."

"When President Truman last week postponed the tests from May to early July, Huffman said at once that 'the postponement should be made permanent.' Mr. Truman reiterated at a news conference yesterday that the postponement was based solely upon a desire to accommodate members of congress who desired to witness the tests and who could not be present on the earlier proposed date.

ARMY, NAVY ASK FOR EXTENSION OF DRAFT

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 30—The Navy teamed up with the Army yesterday in asking congress to extend the draft act beyond May 15.

Vice Adm. Louis F. Denfield, Navy personnel chief, told the Senate military committee the Navy was getting plenty of volunteers but said they were joining to avoid being inducted into the Army.

The admiral said the Navy had 119,000 regulars signed up as of April 1 but that it needed 66,000 more, or about 20,000 monthly in order to reach a planned strength of 350,000 regulars by Sept. 1. Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) asked how the Navy would use the 500,000 men.

Denfield said 250,000 were needed to man the active fleets at 10 per cent of full complement, 30,000 each for fleet support outside and within the country, 600,000 for training, with the balance in associated assignments.

Senator Hart (R-Conn.), a retired admiral, asked if the Navy was not completing an active fighting ship was "skeletonized."

"Yes sir," Admiral Denfield replied. "I would not like to go into battle with 70 per cent complement."

Opposition testimony came from H. C. Holdridge, who identified himself as a retired brigadier general and West Point graduate. He said the draft extension is a "broad program of militarization of the United States."

today. In a strongly worded note, "John Doe" forwarded the information that an avocado is an avocado, and not by any stretch of the imagination a pear. The avocado is a tropical fruit and the pear is a cold climate fruit, he wrote, and they are not in any way related. Our informant volunteered that the error might be explained by the fact that avocados are sometimes called "calavo pears" by the uninformed. However, he said, "calavo is simply a trade name meaning superior, and an avocado is still by no means a pear."
